PFAS Statement

At Horner APG, we recognize that per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) are an increasing concern for human health, the environment, and regulators worldwide. Reducing and ultimately eliminating PFAS from products is now a key industry requirement, and we take it seriously.

We are working to comply with applicable PFAS-related regulations and customer requirements in the markets where we operate. We are also actively engaging with our suppliers to understand where PFAS may be present in our materials and components and to identify and qualify suitable alternatives.

Our goal is to develop a PFAS-free product line. Transitioning to PFAS-free materials without compromising product safety, performance, or quality takes time, and we are working closely with our supply chain to achieve this goal. We will continue to monitor regulatory developments and update this statement as we make progress.

Thank you for your understanding and continued trust in our products.
